WE NOMINATE

Ernest Taylor Stewart, Jr., one of Princeton's most civic-minded and energetic residents and recently retired editor of the "Princeton Alumni Weekly", who this week concluded five years of distinguished service to Town and Gown with his appointment as the first Executive Secretary of the Washington-headquartered American Alumni Council. Stewart's new post, brought into being within the past six months, means that his rare abilities as an administrator and editor—heretofore confined to Princeton University's alumni body—will now benefit the 500 institutions comprising the membership of a nationwide organization.

This 33-year old native of Indiana, Pa., has done as much as any single Princetonian in the post-war period to focus attention on such vital public issues as the consolidation of Borough and Township and the still-discussed possibilities of eliminating "wasteful duplication of effort" by merging the Borough and Township School Districts. Stewart, a former chairman of the local chapter of the American Veterans' Committee, has worked long and hard for both the Community Chest and Red Cross and has invariably been ready to wage "the good fight" for the things he believes will benefit the community as a whole.

Maintaining that he was "vaccinated with printer's ink", Stewart, a cousin of motion picture actor James Stewart, has been associated with publications ever since he was old enough to visualize headlines and lead paragraphs. He started out as editor-in-chief of his secondary school newspaper, later helped make ends meet as a Princeton undergraduate by writing for "The New York Times." Before the war he held forth with a Pennsylvania daily and between 1946 and his resignation as of July 1st raised to new heights the editorial standards of the "Alumni Weekly," one of the outstanding publications of its kind in the country.

Stewart, now president of the Princeton Class of 1941 and a member of the University's Graduate Council, enlisted in the Navy early in 1942 and four years to a day later returned to civilian ways as a senior-grade lieutenant. His wartime tour of duty, including a stint in public relations and extended sweeps through the far reaches of the Pacific aboard the U.S.S. Yorktown, World War II's original "Fighting Lady," was culminated by his marriage to Lois Dale, a Wave Lieutenant and a fellow specialist in air combat intelligence.

For his notable contributions in the field of "alumni relations", one of higher education's lifelines in the chaotic world of today; for his deep interest in the welfare of his adopted community; for gaining and holding the respect and friendship of even those who vehemently disagreed with his views on local affairs; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

Topics of the Town

On the Up and Up. It wasn't the heat, nor even the humidity that was bothering the housewife in these July days of 1951. A far more permanent source of irritation could be traced to the constantly rising cost of food—up 15 percent since the Korean war started and at an all-time peak in June.

The contrast through the years was even greater. To buy a market basket that would have cost $10 in August, 1939, today requires an outlay of $23.75. Another way of putting it is that the 1939 food dollar is now worth about 41 cents.

Wanted: Young Lady. A letter written to the "Principal of Princeton University" has been referred to TOWN TOPICS for possible solution of the dilemma in which a young Spaniard finds himself. Juan F. Montiel, whose address is San Valeriano 24, Madrid, is interested in starting a correspondence with "American young ladies who might like to write to me."

He adds, "the young lady could write to me in the language that suits her best, for besides my own, I am perfectly acquainted with French, Italian and Portuguese; but I would prefer the correspondence to be in English, since I need it very much in my school work." Senor Montiel's first letter, written in Spanish, reports that he is a student in the College of Chemistry and Pharmacy of Madrid and that he is 20 years old.

He concludes that he is "confident that you will accede to my request that you send me the address of such a young lady." In the understandable absence of such action on the University's part, we feel sure that one or more of Princeton's contributions to young American womanhood will accept the invitation.

The School Year. B. Woodhull Davis, supervising principal of the borough's public school system, this week released his annual report on the past year's developments and accomplishments. Among the highlights:

A year-end balance of $4,887.14 of expenditures below the anticipated outlay despite the ability to make $4,300 worth of improvements to the athletic field and approve a $200 cost-of-living payment to every full-time employee.

A recommendation that a study of future building needs be started by next Spring, since next year "every room in the high school will be used every period of each school day."

Enthusiastic parental reception of the "Family Living Program," teaching launched at the elementary school level designed "to give young children accurate information on the origin of human life and the importance of the home in good human development."

Improved parental understanding of certain problems involved in operation of the high school through formation of the Lay Council, whose members represent the borough and every sending district and confer regularly with the board of education on matters of mutual interest.

Marks above average attained in college by the school's alumni, as well as honor ratings by the present student body that are the highest on record.

Completion of the most successful year in interscholastic competition: unbeaten teams in football, tennis and track, with the latter winning the state championship.

An unflinching realization of the vital need for training the leaders of tomorrow to preserve the gains their forefathers have made in the ceaseless war of ideas between the democracies and the totalitarian states.

Mr. Davis also reported on the wide spread of mental capacities in the high school's enrollment with which those planning the curriculum must deal. "Thorough use of the best tests reveal," he said,
"that there are in our midst, two near genius, 69 very superior, 204 superior, 617 normal, 91 dull, five borderline and one psychological moron."

Blanshard and Einstein. When Paul Blanshard, author of the controversial book "American Freedom and Catholic Power," urged "genuine impartiality at Washington in dealing with religious denominations," he got support from an unexpected source. Mr. Blanshard's address, made at the Institute for Theology which has just ended its annual ten-day session here, was backed in full by Dr. Albert Einstein.

Declaring that "President Truman has no right to send a special representative to the headquarters of one religion only," Mr. Blan-shard charged that "our present tendency is to indulge in irresponsible backstairs diplomacy with the Vatican whenever a president needs the Catholic vote." He also attacked "the Catholic boycott of American public schools" which "denies to Catholic parents the freedom to send their children to public schools without penalties."

Mr. Blanshard praised the National Education Association for its part in "overwhelming endorsement of the principle of public funds for public schools only." He asserted that the "Catholic hierarchy has blocked federal aid for public education for the past four years in order to force appropriations for its own schools," but added that he foresaw ultimate defeat for such a campaign.

When he had finished, Dr. Einstein rose to his feet to comment.
"I wish to express my gratitude to a man who is fighting the abuses of a powerful organization. We are grateful to him for his efforts." Spontaneous participation in a highly controversial matter is a rare act on the part of the usually retiring Mercer Street mathematician.

Flying Mayor. Mayor P. MacKay
Sturges, vacationing at his summer home on Shelter Island, N. Y., and partaking in various yachting races, has found a consistent time-saver when he commutes to his duties in Borough Hall. The mayor cuts six to eight hours from his travel time by adopting Princeton Airport's slogan "Don't fight over traffic—fly over it."

It's New to Us

(SUMMER WITH RELISH)

People of the magazines who live in air-conditioning and who have written the Fourth of July issue of whatever they write in the couth of a May morning anyway, are apt to say the summer is a State of Mind. People of the working press to whom the remotest tidbit of circulating air is a myth write of heat waves the way they write about mothers—with great respect and deep feeling.

Being a mother and a member of same press with a corner of a beautifully air-conditioned office at our disposal two mornings a week, we're nothing if not confused by our own feelings on the subject. Our life's a little like a Finnish bath—one minute asphyxiation... the next icy cold rejuvenation. But having been on ice, so to speak, for a couple of hours, we've almost glided over to the pat opinion of our well-fanned friends that summer can be taken with relish if it's taken at a leisurely pace—not bolted down like a cup of steaming coffee in an automaton.

Mint Leaf Iced Tea. Home-grown bright idea that should make headlines everywhere. Luscious minty tea with a dash of lemon and sugared to taste, frozen like orange juice in neat little containers you can store in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator. All you do is add three and a half containers of water—and presto-chango—the tea essence turns into the most delicious cooling stuff you ever tasted.

Mrs. Willard S. Starks of Edgerstoun is the bright originator of all this tea glamour and we think she should get a leather medal for ingenuity in the face of rising temperatures, for personally this is so far removed from the cloudy bitter mixture we brew that our dearly beloved who drinks gallons of the stuff drifted straight to Rosedale for an inexhaustible supply. With ginger ale, instead of water, it's quite special and as a base for all sorts of summer punches, superb. Thirty-five cents buys the equivalent of a quart of tea at Rosedale, 262 Alexander Street.

How Green is Your Salad? Wonderful new tonic to treat salads—or salad thinker-uppers—is Massnes French Sauce... a delectable blend of herbs and spices that was originally designed to top seafoods and meats and such, but which lots of experimental cooks have discovered is quite spectacular on even a lowly lettuce leaf. The Nassau Delicatessen (Palmer Square) carries this for 56c, plus an unusually fine assortment of wine vinegars by Cresca.

Cocktail Party. Even a Tom Collins can look hot and drippy if it doesn't get a good grooming in the kitchen—and most cocktails look practically unappetizing in hot weather when the hostess is just too tired to bother with a curl of lemon peel... a slice of orange... a flip of mint.

Raffetia solves this problem neatly with a whole new line of wonderful cocktail fruits neatly bottled in a sugar syrup that does away with sugar lumps and hitters and fiddling. A pineapple stick, a slice of orange plus a bar spoon of the liquid in the bottom of the glass; liquor and ice and you have a professional looking cocktail—Continued on Page 9

Mr. Sturges is a regular user of the airport's charter service and has also been taking lessons to qualify for a pilot's license. Others interested in these services can get full details by calling 369-43.

Keels Named, Princeton Post No. 75, American Legion, has named James M. Keels of 41 University Place as its new commander, succeeding D. Don Richards. Other officers are Norman Fowler, Samuel Davidson and Innocenzo Venta, vice-commanders; George Cahill, adjutant; Everett Gould, finance officer; Frank Bird, sergeant-at-arms; Alphonse Robertello, historian. Nominated, with appointments expected to follow, are Peter McCroskey, service officer; John McCarthy, Jr., judge advocate; the Rev. Dr. William Tucker, chaplain.

Named to the executive committee were William Birch, Jewell Wright, Jr., Harold H. Hanks, Sr., James Whitlow, Henry Robertello, and Norman Fowler. Delegates to the state convention are Phillip Wassum, Sr., Ernest Drake, Henry Robertello, William Birch, Don Richards, Samuel Davidson, with Phillip Wassum, Jr., Jewell Wright, Jr., Frank Bird, Everett Gould, Hans Dohrn and Theodore Maple as alternates.

Miscellany. The Summer School directed each year, by Dr. John F. Williamson, Westminster Choir College president, will open Monday with 105 professional musicians in attendance from 23 states. Running simultaneously with it will be the Vocal Camp, which has attracted 140 pre-college age students, for three weeks of voice instruction and frequently as a test for admission to the choir college. On the faculty with Dr. Williamson will be Walter Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hedgpath, Mrs. Lorean Holapp and Mrs. Mary Kimmel. Construction has started on an $18,000 archway at the Springdale Road entrance of College Road. A gift to Princeton University by Mr. and Mrs. Hartley M. Dodge of Madison, it will stand nearly 30 feet high and more than 20 feet wide. The gateway between Henry and 1901 Halls was also given by Mr. and Mrs. Dodge in memory of their son, a member of the class of 1930.

The gasoline price war, prevalent throughout the state last Summer, has spread into Mercer County from southern New Jersey and standard grade prices in Trenton have dropped two and three cents from 23.9 per gallon. However, because the large oil companies have not made price concessions to dealers in the Princeton area, the drop is not expected to take effect here immediately. Without a cutback in the wholesale price, dealers who engaged in price reductions sell at cost or below.

The first of a series of "harvest homes" held in the summer months will take place Saturday at the Hlavenburg Church from 5 to 8, rain or shine. In addition to home-cooked dinners featuring turkey and baked ham, a bake sale will be run and a varied program of entertainment (pony rides, grab bag, musical) will be staged for children. Tickets, priced at $2 for adults and $1 for children, bring the peculiarly American privilege of "all you want to eat."

News of the Theatres

SUMMER THEATRES

Melvyn Douglas and Signe Hasso are currently appearing at the McCarter in "Glad Tidings," a new play which depends on the eternal triangle as the basis for its romantic comedy. Next week, Eve Arden in "Here Today," the George Oppenheimer comedy in which she was first seen 19 years ago. The advance drum-beating for the production heralds "a lively assemblage of wisecracks, superficial gayety and mad inconsequentiality."

The Music Circus at Lambertville, is presenting "Show Boat" through Saturday. "Annie Get Your Gun" is the next scheduled production, set to open on Tuesday. At the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope, the play of the moment is "Pal Joey," featuring Carol Bruce. Next week, it will be "Suspect" with Florence Reed.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Acc in the Hole (Thurs.-Sat.) succeeds so well in doing what it sets out to that it loses virtually all entertainment value. Kirk Douglas is cast as a down-at-the-heel reporter who aims for the national spotlight by seeking to drag out the story of a man caught in a cave-in. To do so, he must prolong the victim's suffering by seeing that he remains trapped for several days beyond the time needed for normal rescue operations. The unbelievable events rapidly become unpleasant, draining much of the effectiveness from the drama.

Take Care of My Little Girl (Sun.-Tues.) is a Hollywood jibe at college sororities that records the bitter disappointment of those who don't make the grade socially on the nation's campuses. Stock characters and a routine plot, plus a college setting that is totally unlike the atmosphere generated by the "south side of Nassau Street," result in small entertainment value.

Strictly Dishonorable (Wed.-Sat.), a familiar stage and screen vehicle set in the uninhibited 'twenties, has been done this time by Ezio Pinza and Janet Leigh. The story of an aging Romeo presumably compromised by a sweet young thing, it has been told in sophisticated, amusing fashion, with the added attraction of two operatic and two popular selections sung by the golden-voiced Mr. Pinza.

THE GARDEN

Wyoming Mail (Fri.-Sat.) is an unabashed throwback to the days of great train robberies, with bandits setting a dynamite ambush for the money-laden express hurtling through the mountains. Western fans will welcome the shooting, doublecrossing and picturesque color photography. With Stephen McNally, Alexis Smith.

The Fat Man (Mon.-Tues.) is a murder mystery based on the radio dramas of the same name. J. Scott Smart and Julie London are the principals in an average whodunit that is told mostly in flashbacks and loses considerable continuity in the process.

Emergency Wedding (Wed.-Thurs.) tells the story of a young man who inherits a million dollars and an inferiority complex from his father. A marriage of convenience wins out when he finally triumphs in a battle to aid alien doctors who want to practice in this country. Larry Parks and Barbara Hale in a generally uninspired picture.

Donovan for Dickman. Eddie Donovan, a member of the Princeton coaching staff for the past six years, was named this week to succeed Emerson Dickman as head man of the Tigers' baseball fortunes. Dickman's assistant for the past three seasons, he will continue to coach jayvee football and freshman basketball. The man whom he replaces had to resign to devote full time to his business—television sales.

A graduate of Holy Cross with the class of 1932, Donovan played basketball and baseball. His first Princeton connection was during the war when he was assigned to the Naval Training School here and was largely in charge of the athletic training program. Princeton liked Donovan, Donovan liked Princeton and he was signed to a coaching contract when he returned to civilian status.

While it is difficult to determine the degree to which he has been came tighter than the American League when ETS 1 staged a seventh inning rally to upset Huck McCreedy and the Post Office Social Club, 6-5, on Tuesday. Sparked by Jack Rhubart, who had three hits and drove in three of the six runs, ETS picked up four runs off McCreedy in the top of the seventh to take a 6-5 lead.

Johnny Donaldson, who pitched a great clutch game for ETS 1, hurled himself out of the biggest jam in the bottom of the seventh. Post Office loaded the bases with nobody out, but Donaldson disposed of the next three batters on a pop fly, an infield bouncer that was turned into a force at the plate, and another forced play at third.

RCA moved back into first place with a 7-0 victory over ETS 2 as Tom Collins turned in a one-hit gem. In other Tuesday games, Engine Co. No. 1 tripped ORC 8-4, and AVC won by default from Esposito's.

Big Game in Girls' League. A real treat is in store for Princeton softball enthusiasts next Thursday, July 26. The Eagles and Kings Inn, a couple of girls' teams, that play the game unusually well, meet at 6:30 on William and Olden Field with first place hanging in the balance.

The Eagles array won its first six games without a setback. Kings Inn won six and lost one, a crushing 31-2 defeat by the Eagles. However, that was the only game Kings Inn played without its pitching ace, Kiki Brabson. It will be a different story with Kiki opposing the Eagles' Alice Keiunji, an effective little left-hander.

There were no games scheduled this past week as the girls took a breather between the first and second half of the season.

Marie Williams Photo

Virginia Mershon (left) and her sister Betty have developed a strong family rivalry. Virginia tosses for Andy's Tavern and Betty hurls for Coan's Clubbers, both entries in the Eagles community girls softball circuit. Virginia, at 13, far younger than most girls in the circuit, is playing her first season and has rapidly developed into one of the league's toughest pitchers. But she's no riddle to sister Betty, who is quite a slugger. The girls live on Berrien Avenue, Princeton Junction.

triumph gave the Tigertowners a .500 record, nine wins and nine losses.

The local boys teed off immediately against Ken Eiker. Nick Ross opened the game with a double, scored on another double by Carl Pope. Pope tallied on a single by Bob Kehoe, and clean-up hitter Tom Brophy made it four runs on four straight hits by smashing a home run down the left field line.

That was the ball game. Hightstown hit Brophy's pitches for only four blows, one a home run by Don Mohr. Monday on Brokaw Field Princeton jumped away to a 5-2 lead over Flemington in the first three innings.

The game ended after six innings with the score tied at 6-6.

Post 76, the Princeton boys won their first five games with an amazing display of pitching strength.

Bob Stuart and Tom Robbins allowed Ten Mile Run only two hits as Post 76 won 7-2. Bucky Osborne followed with a one-hit 2-1 decision over Kingston's ace, Joe Catelli. Robbins hurled hitless ball and struck out eight in a four-inning 14-0 victory over Princeton Junction.

Montgomery Township was tripped 9-3 behind Stuart's pitching, and Ten Mile Run was shut out 12-0 by Osborne for the fifth straight triumph. Del Wible and Richard Tryon already have smacked three hits for Post 76.

PLAYERS WHO ADVANCED TO SEMI-FINALS AND FINALS IN TENNIS TOURNAMENTS

Pictured above are the finalists in the community men's singles championship and the women's singles tournament. Kneeling are Tom Whitin (left) and Richard Becker. Standing left to right are Miss Barbara Gage, Miss Ellen Kerney, Mrs. Pepper Constable and Mrs. Stanley Smoyer. Whitin, an Hightstown student, defeated Becker in the final match. The women's singles title was won by Miss Gage, who defeated Mrs. Smoyer in the final match. The final match was a 6-0, 6-2 victory over Miss Gage in the final match. ers, two characteristics that are basic foundations for coaching success are the ability to adapt and the ability to be a team player.

Because Dickman was unexpectedly detained in Indiana for business reasons last month, he was unable to coach the team in the game with Hightstown. The Eastern Intercollegiate League championship. Shookled at the plate by a good leftlander, the Titans moved back into their usual first place slot this past week by sweeping two straight from Peter's A. C. pace-setters all season.

Last Wednesday the Phantoms were out in full strength for the big game with Peter's Norm Hines, Jim Miller, Sam Brown and most important, Shookled at the plate. The team was crushed by an 8-0 score, with Carter's three-run homer the big blow for the Phantoms.

Bates was the master all the way in pitching the four-hit shutout. He yielded two walks and a single in the first inning. The shutout this gave the Phantoms a chance to show off their classy form. Two infield boppers and two fast plays in the third inning were a feeble attempt to break the shutout without any damage.

It was an anti-climax Friday, as the Phantoms toppled Peter's again, this time by a 5-0 score. The scores in the A League were Vet Taxi 6, Townies 5; Ceneino's 8, Jugtown 3; Vet Taxi 17, Bank Ceneino's 7; Phantoms 17, Vet Taxi 3; Townies 6, Jugtown 5.

IT'S NEW TO US

without an exhausting mess in the kitchen. Refills with this system are a snap. Schafer's Market, 350 Nassau Street, has these for 59c.

Meal-in-One Soups. Cold soup and salad suppers can be an unexpected pleasure for hostess and guest alike, especially if they involve something a little more exotic than jellyed mardielles or overworked Vichyssoise. Mentell does a trio of wonderful bouques—clam, crab and oyster—that not only give a nice pull to your palate but look attractive at the same time. We have never been able to bring ourselves, quite, to the cold borsch school. Beets are beets and messy looking to our mind summer or winter. But back to La Gourmet whose soups are delicious, un-beaty and can be found at Schafer's also. From 48c.

Another meal-in-one soup that comes frozen but is eaten hot is old-fashioned Boston clam chowder—done up by Beaver Brands at the Nassau Delicatessen. Fifty-five cents takes this one.

Cream of the Evening Dessert. Quick change from the usual ices and cream toppings to a meal—a frozen cream cheese cake—that comes carefully wrapped in tinfoil to store... slices down to eat like an ice-cream brick. A little of this goes a long way—it's rich as Croesus, but fun for 59c at the Nassau Delicatessen.

Popsicles — Bumper Crop. We haven't even tried to count up the monstrous number of icy pops our children have licked up this summer. All we know is that at five cents apiece, our budget was beginning to limp a little. That is until we discovered the virtue of making our own in the ice-cube compartment of our long-suffering refrigerator from the little kit of fruit essence, sticks and papers we found at Schafer's.

We can't remember the name of all this—it's something horrible like Kiddy Pops but now when the hungry hoards descend we're ready with ice tray out-stretched. We've finally out-manuevered the Good Humor Man! Twenty-five cents makes a couple of tray-fuls.

Clean Plate Club. We agree—nobody, nobody will say that short-order cooking is worth one whit if there are stacks of dishes to be shampooed afterward. Obviously paper plates the answer, but so often these are made up in such vicious colors as to strain one's eyes. Just looking at them.

Stonewald's, 13 Palmer Square, has something quite different. A whole series of paper plates and cups, napkins and tablecloths in cream-of-white, with an almost-Wedgwood border of ivy for the only trimming. Under a hurricane lamp it's hard to tell the difference. But what a difference! Twenty-five cents takes a package of almost all of these.

SPORTS IN SHORT

Captain-elect Ray Chirugi (2-0) were the only pitchers to throw at least 20 innings and go unbeaten. Captain Will Prior was the leading Princeton batter with a .364 mark; one more hit in the Harvard game on June 19 would have given him the batting title, which went to Andy Wettlaufer of the Army with .385.

The champion Tigers hit .238 to finish fifth in team batting, which Brown topped with .262. Much of the tip off on their success comes with the fact that they were credited with 16 sacrifices to lead the league by a wide margin, and that close to another dozen bunts went for hits or drew costly errors. The victories over Navy, Cornell and Harvard were all won largely through ability to play this kind of inside baseball.

Do you know that the first indication of a child's illness is increased body temperature? It is one of nature's warning signals.

There's no accurate way of knowing whether your child has a fever unless you have a thermometer at hand.

If you haven't one available, may we suggest that as a normal precaution, you buy one today?
